"There are times in a career when you experience a life-changing event, which causes you to examine what you have been doing and what you want for the future." "The Windmills training program created such an event for 50 of my management staff members changing the perception of ability, cultural sensitivity, and accommodation of individuals with disabilities."

"Richard and Milts Windmills presentation reached all levels of management with humor, intriguing interactive activities, and relevant story telling." I am committed to having my staff trained as trainers.

Director Human Resources - Sunbeam Corp.

"We have been using Windmills for years with businesses and personnel departments to successfully advance disability inclusive workplace strategies. Windmills is the perfect solution to shift from just talking about an inclusive workplace to taking meaningful action to build an inclusive workplace".

*Chanda Hermanson-Dudley, Administrator
Vocational Rehabilitation and Blind Services, Montana*

"Windmills is the number one way of changing attitudes and developing long-term relationships with employers."

Dr. Heather Brostrand, Ph.D. Research Study

"Michigan has now been using the Windmills training for more than 5 years. Milt and Richard's Windmills train the trainer was highly rated by our staff. Our business partners consistently ask for Windmills training and it has helped us develop even stronger relationships with our employer community. We look forward to additional training on how to deliver Windmills virtually."

*Jenny Piatt, MA, CRC, LPC
Bureau Division Director
Michigan Rehabilitation Services (MRS) Business Network Division*

Windmills is a highly interactive training that empowers and equips employment professionals to understand the business community and help businesses through virtual and in-person training to become more inclusive of individuals with disabilities in the workplace.

Overview

This special virtual training event promises to be both highly informative and deeply inspiring for those charged with working with employers, managers and supervisors to obtain employment opportunities for persons with disabilities. The combined talents of these dynamic trainers and revised 2020 Windmills training activities for both virtual and live presentations guarantee a training experience that will prepare you to deliver training to employers, and managers and supervisors in your local area. This training offers a reservoir of time-tested tools and hands-on methods for achieving placement results.

Continuing Education Credits: CEU's for CRC certification are available.

Location: The Four-Part Windmills Interactive Train-the-Trainer series will be delivered on a ZOOM platform with live captions, if needed.
